

Dreamwork Fundamentals: Practical Tools to Enhance Life and Work with Will Hall, MA, Dipl. PW and Suzette Payne MA, Dipl. PW

Saturday, May 11, 2013, 10:00am-5:00pm, Portland Oregon
Process Work Institute, 2049 NW Hoyt St.

Cost: $120 (PWI members $108) Early Registration: $108 (Deadline: 04/26/2013; members $96)
To register contact: pwi@processwork.org or call (503) 223-8188

Dreams can bring vitality to stuck places, offer solutions to overwhelming problems, and point to new life directions. But how do you figure out what a dream means? Is there a way to unwind the weird and confusing tangle of night dreams and weave something clear and useful for the daytime?

Using Jungian and Process Work methods, this class will equip you with essential tools of curiosity, symbolic association, body awareness, amplification, and creative expression. Dreamwork can be fun, inspiring, and easy, and will open you up to a whole new creative resource you can draw on for living. Dreams are powerful! Dreams are useful! Anyone new to understanding dreams or wanting to deepen their skills will find Process Work a practical and effective approach.

About the teachers: Will Hall MA DiplPW and Suzette Payne MA DiplPW are Process Work Diplomates with a longtime passion for teaching and learning about the power of dreams. As practicing therapists and teachers, they've used night dreams and daytime dream-like experiences as an active and ongoing part of their professional and personal lives for many years. Will and Suzette are inspired to share what they have learned about the power and usefulness of dreams. www.willhall.net www.creativehealing.org.